He Punches the Bag and Rehearses His New Play.

Corbett WIII Keep at HIS Training Lamplighter's Victory Until Saturday Afternoon.

John L. Sullivan is taking things tolerably casy over in Brooklyn, thinking more about his book and play than his coming fight with Corbett. There will be a little more work done to-day than yesterday, however. Sullivan arose at 6 o'clock this morning, and after dressing got up a sweat by a run around the handball court in the rear of Casey's place in Degraw street. He breakfasted at 7, and after giving the meal time to digest did some more work in the temporary gymnasium, principally bag-punching. The next two hours were put in at Holmes's Theatre, where the rehearsal of his play is in progress. In the afternoon he does about two hours work, and the rest of the time he passes quietly is his room. The Sullivan party goes South to-morrow afternoon. The departure from Casey's will be at about 4 o'clock.

The party will grive direct to the West be at about 4 o'clock.

The party will drive direct to the West Shore depot in Hoboken, whence the special train leaves at 5.30 o'clock. The route is by Buffalo, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Those who will go with sullivan in his handsomely fitted up private car "Traveller," are Johnston. Wakely, Ashton. Casey, the Jap, Billy Morgan and Frank Moran. New Orleans will be reached Saturday evening.

Sullivan's and Corbett's exhibitions on Monday night have given an impetus to the betting on their great right. Lois of people were waiting on their great right. Lois of people were waiting for a chance to see how the men looked before placing their money.

One bet made yesterday was $100 to $1,000 that Sullivan gets the worst of the argument. Another of $500 even was made that Corbett does not win in ten rounds.

Al Smith will bet $1,000 to $10,000 against Sullivan, while Bookmaker Levian will place $2,500 against $5,000 on the Californian. Charley Johnston has $10,000 to go on the big fellow at odds or 100 to 70.

At New Orleans the combinations with Corbett in seem to be going down in price a bit. Six to one against Corbett, Myer and Dixon was played some yesterday, and the price cut to $10.1.

In this city yesterday afternoon $200 was bet at odds of 5 to 1 against the Sullivan-McAuliffe-Dixon combination.

Assury Park, N. J., Aug. 31.—Jim Corbett is back to his training again. He was up at 8 o'clock this morning, his usual rising hour, and after brea first and reading his mail proceeded to his gymnasium and went through his routine of work.

He will keep at it until leaving time. His party, consisting of himself, Manager Brady, Denny Dillon, Billy Delaney, Jim Daly, Wrestler McVey and Mike Donovan will leave here in time to catch the "Corbett as pecial," which starts for New Orleans from the Fennsylvania Depot, Jersey City, at 4.30 o'clock Saturday atternoon.

The "Escort" is the rame of the private car in which Corbett and his cohorts will journey to the Crescent City. The car was especially propered for Corbett at W especially prepared for Corbett at Washington.

It is upholstered in blue silk plush and is invariantly furnished throughout. Two of the staterooms have been made into one by removing a partition. This is at one end of the car and will be used as a sleeping-room by Corbett.

The bed he has used at the Brady cottage all summer will be placed in the compartment, so Jim will not suffer any inconvenience from change of beds.

Back of Corbett's room are two smaller staterooms and then comes a library. The parior occupies about half of the car, on the rear of which is an observation platform.

Between the private car and the engine will be the gymnasium car, which is to be rigged up with all necessary training appliances.

The route to New Orleans will be over the Pennsylvania and Pledmont Air Line. The destination will be reached at 7.30 Monday morning.
